

SHABBAT SHALOM WELCOME

Shabbat Parashat Shemini
Shabbat Parah

Services led by Rabbi Michael Gotlieb and Cantor Samuel Cohen.

Torah: Leviticus 11:1-47 (page 636)
read by Andrea Jussim

Maftir: Numbers Hukat 19:1 (page 880)

Haftorah: Ezekiel 36:16-38 (page 1286)
chanted by Beverly Bienstock

Greeters: Wendy and Kate Woodhall

Most religious groups have dietary guidelines. The Jains and Buddhists avoid the taking of life, and subsequently maintain a strict vegetarian diet. Hindus regard the cow as sacred, preventing them from eating beef. Our Torah states that the People of Israel sanctifies itself by avoiding non-kosher food. This morning's Torah portion stipulates what is kosher and what is not. Different reasons are offered as to why we have the dietary restraints we hold. The Bible explains, it is to enhance the holiness of the human being—further differentiating between our biological and spiritual sides.

Join us after Services today for Kiddush luncheon – eat, chat, and enjoy Shabbat!
